SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE

Dr. Simon's great work, the "Chemistry of Man," (Lea & Blanchard, Philadelphia, 1846, pp. 32:-2) save: "The discovery of PEP SIN forms a new era in the chemical history of Digestion. Pro recent experiments, we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the natu All modern works on Chemistry, Materia Medica, and Physiol gy, and all good Medical Dictionaries, describe the character and properties of Parsin, and state many interesting details respect

The fact that an Artificial Digestive Fluid, or Gastric Juice, por feetly resembling the natural fluid, may be readily prepared, does not admit of question. The only wonder is, that it has not before been applied to the cure of Indigestion and Dyspepsia—so naturally does such a use suggest itself to the mind.

AS A DYSPEPSIA CURER,

Dr. Houghton's Pepsin has produced the most marvellous effects, in curing cases of Debility, Emaciation Norvous Decline, and Dyspeptic Consumption. It is impossible to give the details of cases in the limits of this advertisement; but authenticated certificates have been given of more than two hundered remarkable cures, in Philadelphia, New York, and Boston alone. These were nearly all desperate cases, and the cures were net only rapid and wonderful, but permanent
